

Something FOR EVERYONE

Stumped at what to give someone? Try one of these picks By Cindy Brzostowski

We all have at least one person in our lives who seems impossible to shop for. Maybe every time the holidays roll around, they say they don't want or need anything. Maybe they have such particular tastes that it feels like an impossible task to find them a present. Here are some gifts that even the most challenging recipient is bound to enjoy.

HOTEL COLLECTION CANDLE

Can you ever have too many candles? The best candle is one that can transport you to another place just by fragrance alone. Hotel Collection's hand-poured, soy-blend candles are inspired by iconic luxury hotels around the world such as the Aria Hotel in Las Vegas and 1 Hotel in Miami. Light the wick, enjoy the sophisticated scent and let yourself imagine you're on vacation. hotelcollection.com

WHISPERING WILLOW LAVENDER NECK WRAP

Self-care isn't always on the top of people's priority lists, but you can help encourage that special someone in your life to slow down and relax with this lavender neck wrap. To use it, you just spritz it with some water, heat it in the microwave for a minute and then place it around your neck and shoulders. It works to loosen muscle tension while providing some soothing aromatherapy. A zen feeling is just around the corner. ## MANNI OLIVE OIL

Whether your recipient is a novice in the kitchen or an enthusiastic chef, one thing they're bound to have and use is olive oil. Give them something of quality with MANNI Oil, an award-winning, organic extra virgin olive oil beloved by renowned chefs such as Thomas Keller and Jean-Georges Vongerichten. Gwyneth Paltrow even called it "pure liquid gold." The bottles are shipped directly from the mill in Tuscany. mannioil.com | Olive oil bottles from $59

CHAPPYWRAP

ChappyWrap's cotton-blend blankets check the boxes of being soft, durable and attractive. Depending on who will be doing the snuggling, you can buy the blankets in a variety of patterns and sizes ranging from mini (30" x 40") to royal (90" x 90"). Your recipient will also be pleased to learn that the easy-to-care-for blanket can be machine-washed and dried. It might just become their new favorite blanket. ## VOCHILL

VoChill, an Austin-based brand, wants to make drinking wine even more enjoyable. Suitable for an assortment of glassware shapes, their sleekly designed chiller pulls heat out of the glass to help whites, rosés, sparkling wines and reds all reach their ideal temperature whether you're indoors or outside. That's important because temperature can make a big difference in a wine's taste. VoChill could be the product your recipient never knew they needed until now.
